BETTER HEALTH FOR PEOPLE EVERYWHERE---TRIUMPH OF TANLAC

Druggists Say Success in Actual Tests Backs Its Success in the Trade.

Tanlac's triumphs have been both swift and steady. The quickness with which it has been accepted by the public less than two years ago is equalled by the steady demand with which it is welcomed today.

So great is this demand, based upon the proven merits of the great constructive tonic and upon the unqualified praise and endorsement given by thoughtful men and women, that the big world of business has taken heed of Tanlac.

Druggists who had handled proprietary medicines for years were startled with the record. Accustomed to sales hitherto considered large, they could find no precedent, not even a basis of comparison for the success of Tanlac.

The druggists soon discovered the reason of Tanlac's triumph in the store—it was Tanlac's triumph in the home.

Tanlac has brought prosperity to many because it has made them equal to their tasks—fit for their jobs—eager to do their work, whether it is the work of a housewife, the teacher, the clerk, the preacher, or professional man, baker, merchant and manufacturer, mechanic, laborer and farmer.

As you read the recommendations of Tanlac you will be impressed with the frequency of some expressions: "It has made a new man of me," "It has made me feel like a girl," "It has made me feel like a new man," "I am gaining weight," "Tanlac has put dollars in my pocket," "I can do more work than ever before."

As a tonic for run-down men and women who need better digestion, more strength, more flesh, regulated circulation and a revitalizing of the nervous system, Tanlac, The Tonic Supreme, has no equal.

Ollie James in Spotlight As Orator at Convention

Kentucky Senator Given Ovation When He Praises Foreign Policy of President Wilson. Day Session Speeded Up—Bryan Cheered.

By SAM W. SMALL, JR. (International News Service.)

St. Louis, Mo., June 15.—The Democratic national convention started its drive to finish up business and get out into the campaign. Under the rules adopted by the convention it will remain in continuous session until all business is disposed of, and unless there is unexpected delay, the final adjournment will come before daylight.

Senator Reed, of Mo., made a speech in which he voiced the regret of the city that it was not to entertain such a distinguished gathering for a longer period and offered an amendment that the continuous session begin at 9 o'clock this evening instead of 8 o'clock as asked by the committee on rules. The amendment was adopted and then the convention met tonight pledged to stick to its work until it is finished.

James Arouses Enthusiasm. The afternoon session gave the Democrats another chance to rejoice in an eloquent recital of the achievements of the party, led by Senator Ollie James.

Like Governor Martin H. Glynn, of New York, who made the keynote speech of yesterday, Senator James aroused the great crowd in the coliseum to a great pitch of enthusiasm and inspired them with high hopes of success that had not been touched upon by temporary Chairman Glynn, and paid high tribute to President Wilson. And today it was the deeds of the party and the gates and visitors that appealed to delegation that lasted for nineteen minutes. The phrase that caught the crowd referred to President Wilson's foreign policy.

The Democrats were slow to meet at 11 o'clock. It was past the noon hour when they moved with a zip and jump that threatened speed records.

Archbishop John J. Glennon, of St. Louis, offered the prayer and the convention repeated with him the words of the Lord's Prayer. Joseph E. Bell, of Indianapolis, chairman, submitted a report of the committee on credentials and a list of names.

As soon as the applause died down, Jennings Bryan, who had listened intently toward the speaker's platform. The crowd recognized him and believed he was going to congratulate Senator James.

Cheers for Bryan. The galleries began to shout his name and a number of delegates joined in the cheer. The shouts and applause kept up for several minutes and Senator James sent for Mr. Bryan to have him address the convention, but Mr. Bryan had left the hall to fill an engagement to address the City Club downtown. The crowd minutes before order could be restored. Senator James announced that Mr. Bryan had left the hall, but promised that he would be ample opportunity to hear him before the convention adjourns. The announcement was met with a shout of applause.

EIGHTY YEARS OLD; TAKES TANLAC

Retired Locomotive Engineer Enthusiastically Endorses the Master Medicine. FEELS YOUNG AGAIN.

Tanlac has become universally known. It has rendered aid to the young as well as the old. Mr. E. S. Terry, of 141 Barry street, Schenectady, N. Y., is possibly one of Schenectady's best known citizens. He is a retired engineer and now, thanks to Tanlac, enjoys health at the time of life when he has passed his eightieth birthday.

In conversation with the Tanlac representative, Mr. Terry said that he was indeed very grateful for what Tanlac has done for him. But let us quote his own words:

"I have spent 39 years as a locomotive engineer and I used to eat a lot of cold meals and that is what gave me my stomach trouble. In the first place, I suffered generally from dyspepsia and this stomach trouble, and used to be troubled with gas which gave me a terrific pain, after my meals. I have been bothered this way for many years. I couldn't eat anything at all, before I took Tanlac. Since I started on it, I feel like a new man. The suffering would be so great that I was laid up in the house for five or six days at a time. I am eighty years old and I was as sound as a dollar, except for my stomach trouble."

"A friend recommended Tanlac to me because it had done him so much good. I have taken only two bottles and it has fixed me up so that I feel like a young man again."

This is the time of the year when the body needs toning up. A great many people feel listless and tired constantly, just as Mr. O'Shea. Very often this is due to some organic trouble. Tanlac revitalizes the blood, it builds strength through the tissues of the body. It is an ideal tonic and invigorant.

Chosen for Second Time As Wilson Running Mate

THOMAS RILEY MARSHALL.

VANCE M'CORMICK SILENT ON OFFER

Declines to Say Whether He Will Accept Chairmanship of Democratic Committee.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 15.—Vance M'Cormick, named by President Wilson to be chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was located on the grounds of the Hogestown Horse and Cattle Show this afternoon. He said he had not been officially notified of his selection by the President and until he received some official word he would have nothing to say as to whether or not he would accept the place.

President Wilson has selected Vance M'Cormick, of Pennsylvania, to be chairman of the Democratic National Committee. It was said yesterday that the President's wishes have been communicated to the members of the national committee at St. Louis and that Mr. M'Cormick's formal election will take place when that body meets today or Monday.

The President has chosen Representative Carter Glass, of Virginia, chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, to be secretary to the national committee. No information is obtainable as to whether Mr. Glass will accept the position. He is national chairman of the Virginia, having been selected with the acquiescence of the regular Virginia Democratic organization, made up of his traditional enemies at the State convention two weeks ago.

The President has chosen Homer S. Cummings, of Connecticut, vice chairman of the committee; Fred B. Lynch, of Minnesota, chairman of the executive committee; and W. W. March, of Iowa, treasurer. All of these appointments are known to be acceptable to the committee.

Mr. M'Cormick's selection as campaign chairman is regarded here as the first definite indication of President Wilson's intention to make a strong appeal to the Independent and Progressive vote in the months between now and November. The President is said to share with some of his advisers the conviction that neither he nor Mr. Hughes can be elected without the Independent vote.

Mr. M'Cormick ranks as a "highbrow" in politics. As an unsuccessful candidate for governor of Pennsylvania against Martin H. Brumbaugh and throughout other political activities M'Cormick has taken an ultra progressive stand on the issues prominent before the outbreak of the war.

Wilson Puts Trust in High Motives, He Says

President Tells Virginia Democrats He Never Can Feel Sure His Course Is Wisest.

"In the midst of a great many unexpected difficulties a man can never be sure that he is taking the wisest course," said President Wilson yesterday. "He can only be sure of the motives that prompted him in that course and of the thoughts that lie back of the course."

The President was speaking to a delegation from the Virginia Democratic State convention, who called at the White House to present a copy of a resolution approving his administration, which was signed by the convention. In acknowledging the resolution, the President said: "You have overstated my claims to credit, but I accept what you have said very gladly as a tribute of the heart rather than a tribute of the judgment. I know you intended it as both, and as a tribute of the heart it gives me a peculiar pleasure. It is not often, gentlemen, that there is personal contact of this sort in this rather strenuous and lonely business of conducting a government, and therefore it was with an instinct of real friendship that you came in such interesting numbers to bring me this encouragement, and to tell me that you do believe in the motives and in the purposes that have characterized this administration."

Commodore Peters Dead. The Navy Department yesterday was advised of the death of Commodore George H. Peters, U. S. N., retired, which occurred at the Naval Hospital here. He was a native of Pennsylvania and was 61 years old.

SUMMER MEDICINE

Mr. J. F. Oerlet, Vienna, Va., says: "I have used it in my family for sixteen years, and found it more effective than you claim for it in treating cases of chills or malarial fever. I have known in several instances three doses to stop chills, and one member of our family was cured of Malarial Fever by it when given up to die by physicians. As a tonic I consider it has no equal."
